

(PHD) DEGREE - GRADING SYSTEM*I. Comprehensive doctoral examination

Method of evaluation - each member of the Examination Committee grades each subject from 0 to 5 points – an average should be counted afterwards.

Fulfillment of the examination - if the candidate should take exam on three subjects

1. subject (main)	at least the average of 2.00	doubles	exam average (the average of at least 3.00 for a successful examination)
2. subject (subsidiary)	at least the average of 2.00	counts once
3. subject (subsidiary)	at least the average of 2.00	counts once

Fulfilment of the examination - if the candidate should take exam on the main subject only (ie. she/he completed the PhD training programme within 3 years)

main subject	grade-points given by the members of the Committee	grade-points average of at least 2.00	exam average (average of at least 3.00 for a successful examination )
grades of the first six subjects of the student's module according to the curriculum	1. subject - grade	average of grade-points of the six subjects
	2. subject - grade
	3. subject - grade
	4. subject - grade
	5. subject - grade
	6. subject - grade

II. Defense of the dissertation

Method of evaluation: each member of the Committee of Assessors grades from 0 to 5 points.

Approval of the dissertation

For a successful defense the candidate should be given at least 60 % of the maximum points (that is, the average of at least 3.00 points). The average of the points given by the members of the Committee is the defense average.

III. PhD degree - overall grading system

The PhD degree may have three overall grades on the basis of the defense's average and the average of the comprehensive doctoral exam.

exam average (at least 3.00)	average of the doctoral degree	rite - 3.00-3.60
defense average (at least 3.00)		cum laude 3.61-4.30
		summa cum laude 4.31-5.00